

Construction MBA/ Leadership Forum

Ohio Valley Associated Builders and Contractors brings you the 2023 Construction MBA/Leadership Forum, an eight session course especially designed to develop and expand leadership skills for construction.

Over the span of eight day-long sessions and work in-between, the attendee will be introduced to everything it takes to operate and grow a successful construction firm.

The Construction MBA/Leadership Forum is the best resource to learn the tools needed to grow and succeed in any construction leadership position. Many similar programs exist; but none cover this breadth of topic and are specific to our industry, nor do any of them offer the invaluable peer group connections and vital information to move up the ladder of success.

Discover what other students and companies have learned with the Construction MBA/Leadership Forum and enroll today!

WHAT ELSE DO THEY SAY...

All in all, the forum was great. I am really glad that I got to be a part of this program.

I came away with something from each session.

I learned about myself and key ways to communicate with people who need a boost of initiative to perform at a higher level.

As a project manager, I did not understand the accounting bonding side of our business until now.
