

Aspiring Academics

Building the Next Generation of Academic Pharmacy Leaders

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The goal of the AACP Aspiring Academics program is to strengthen students' understanding of and commitment to a career in academic pharmacy. Twenty (20) student-faculty pairs will be invited to participate in a hybrid longitudinal program between August 2023 and July 2024. Most program components will be delivered online and culminate at the 2024 AACP Annual Meeting and Teachers' Seminar in Boston. Learn from a faculty mentor at your institution (the home mentor) and one assigned by AACP (the AACP group mentor). The program offers a unique opportunity to engage with peers and mentors across institutions about pharmacy faculty roles, expectations, and opportunities for advancement.

BENEFITS

Students who fulfill the requirements will:

- Gain valuable knowledge and experience,
- Earn the prestigious AACP Aspiring Academics designation,
- Be honored during an in-person event at the 2024 AACP Annual Meeting, and
- Have the opportunity to network and be recognized by leaders in pharmacy education.
