- Find colleges that are the right fit
- Decide how to pay for college
- Make important decisions that will lead to meaningful lives

For your top students who meet our high standards of academic achievement, physical fitness and strong moral character, the United States Military Academy (USMA) at West Point offers an exciting path through higher education to a great career. It's an education that places students in the company of tomorrow's leaders. In fact, our graduates include U.S. presidents, senators, generals and leaders in business, industry and medicine.

A recommendation from you to consider a USMA education can set a student on course for lifetime success.

As you work with students on their college plans, we ask you to note those young men and women who fit the exceptional profile of USMA students and encourage them to apply, a process that costs nothing and carries no obligation to attend. Because applying for admission to USMA can take considerable time and includes obtaining a congressional nomination, a medical exam and a fitness assessment, students should begin their applications during their junior year. Your attention throughout the application process will be a great asset to your students.

You will also want to make these students aware of the Summer Leaders Experience, which allows them to spend a week at USMA, experiencing life at the Academy in the summer between their junior and senior years in high school. More information about this summer program can be found on our website.
